Mrs. H. Cardinal and daughter, Miss Alice, of Blairmore, have moved to Macleod, and have taken up residence in the house formerly occupied by E. Hayman. Mr. H. Cardinal, on the staff of the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, is a son.—Macleod Gazette.

The Blairmore United church and Sunday school orchestra, Ed. Royle, leader, with Mr. and Mrs. W. Dutton, of Frank, took full charge of the evening service at the Salvation Army chancel, Coleman, on Sunday last. The service was fully enjoyed by all. It is expected that the orchestra will be heard over the radio from Lethbridge, when a service is to be broadcast from the Pentecostal church sometime during May.

The village of Carbon, Alberta, has decided to rake all revenue possible from dogs before Aberhart has the opportunity to grab a share. Police dogs will in future be taxed $20 per year for male species, and $25 for female. Fees for dogs other than police dogs will be one dollar for males and two dollars for females. Dogs are asked to pay strict attention to notices that have been posted in conspicuous places.

The mayor of Coleman, George Pattinson, has handed out some straight talk recently. It has nothing to do with small stuff such as Communism, communistic movements and the like, but to this effect: "If the provincial government is going to reap profits from its liquor traffic, then they can pay the cost of policing and rounding up the drunks. There will be a show-down between the town and mounted police."

BELLEVUE HAPPENINGS

The annual First Aid banquet was held on Thursday evening in the dining room of the Bellevue Inn, when about thirty-two sat down to a chicken supper. After the boys had done justice to the excellent spread of edibles, President Fred Padgett opened the programme of speeches by saying how pleased he was to see so many taking First Aid instruction, and hoped that next year there would be twice as many. Mr. Padgett then called upon instructor B. Milnes, who also stated he was pleased with the results obtained in the examinations. Dr. Reinhold was the next speaker. He said he would be pleased to continue his series of First Aid lectures next year. Mr. H. H. Congdon, of Blairmore, examiner, also spoke briefly. Harry Harrison entertained the audience with card tricks, etc. A most enjoyable evening was brought to a close by the singing of several songs.

Miss Y. Holyoak, who spent the week visiting with her sister, Mrs. A. Coupland, returned to Gadaby, where she is employed on the bank staff.

The Caledonians were hosts to a number of their friends on Thursday evening in the I.O.O.F. hall, when Rev. Mr. Wood, of Hillcrest, gave an illustrated lantern travelogue on "Scotland." After a dainty luncheon, dancing was enjoyed till midnight.

Mrs. H. Harrison spent several days in Fernie last week.

Mrs. J. H. McLean entertained a number of friends on Friday last in honor of Miss Holyoak.

Mrs. Robinson, of Lundbreck, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Curry for a few days.

The badminton tournament, held in the gym last Thursday, resulted in another victory for Michel.

Mrs. Foster, of Coleman, spent the week end here with her daughter, Mrs. J. H. McLean.

About forty Bellevueites took advantage of the special train to Calgary for the hockey games.

Mrs. Wm. Beck entertained a number of friends at her home on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Barlass are sporting a new Plymouth.

Little Miss Shirley Shaw, of Calgary, is visiting with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. I. Haysom.

James Welsh, of Passburg, sustained injuries at the Mohawk mine on Monday.

Word was received from Kimberley last week end of the sudden passing of Mrs. White, sister of Mrs. M. Rayko. Prior to leaving here for Kimberley, she was employed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Berry.

From the Coleman Journal: Crows' Nest Pass mining towns depend largely upon the C.P.R. coal orders for work and wages. Traders also depend on the business of those who mine coal. Then, why use trucks to bring in merchandise? It is as shortsighted and foolish as the fellow who killed the proverbial goose that laid the golden eggs. [We know of many in this district who are buying coal from outside points, knowing that our mines need work.]

WILL EXPEDITE MOVE TOWARDS SOCIAL CREDIT

EDMONTON, March 28.—Application of Social Credit principles in the province have been expedited rather than given a setback by the government's break with Major C. H. Douglas, principal reconstruction adviser, in the opinion of a special committee of the Social Credit party which now is studying the whole situation. With the responsibility for action now placed definitely upon the government's shoulders of the Douglas termination of contract frees the government from further delay on that score, it is claimed by a spokesman for the committee.

"Freed from the vague and ineffective advice, the government is prepared to accept its responsibility. It is eager to take definite action forward to implement its mandate," said the spokesman. Caucus of Social Crediters was solidly behind Premier Aberhart in his stand during the negotiations with Major Douglas, it was announced by the committee.

The message given the premier by the caucus follows: "You were elected by the people to give Alberta practical Social Credit. We were elected to give you power to do this with or without Douglas, you are our leader to this end and have our united and unqualified support in this matter."

In addition the caucus pointed out that the advice asked from Major Douglas generally came too late for action to be taken. Owing to the great distance, immediate advice of a complicated nature could not be obtained in time. When any advice was not clear, then from four to six weeks would be involved in clarifying the matter. Thus, refusal of Major Douglas to come to Alberta had provided a solution for these difficulties. Social Credit members claim.—Lethbridge Herald.

The impression some have that the world owes them a living is entirely wrong. Nature's law is that men must produce in order to live. Socializing of industry, it is argued by some, would solve unemployment problems. Government participation in business seldom proves successful and history proves that it is from competition there develops progress. Initiative is developed by competition and has resulted in eliminating drudgery in many industries, and has helped to establish a higher standard of living conditions compared with even 25 years ago.—Coleman Journal.

At the annual meeting of the dog-pussy cats, mice, rats, gophers and chickens of the Crows' Nest Pass held on Friday afternoon last, a resolution protesting strongly against the childish idea of some portion of the Aberhart government to impose a tax on them was passed unanimously. All claimed they had no earning power, and challenged Mr. Aberhart's government to show just where it was possible to show an "unearned increment." Some of the higher ups, including the cows, bulls, mares and stallions, promised support to the resolution.

The Blairmore Unemployed Association has asked the Town of Blairmore for an increase of 25 per cent relief allowance, which they want in cash. They also ask for a pint of milk per day per child, and clothing every month. They state that married unemployed in Blairmore are getting $13.50 per couple, with $2.75 per child per month, meaning that a family of four gets $19.50 per month for food, which works out at from 13 cents to 16 cents per person per day. Single boys and single girls, they claim, are not getting relief, and assistance for them is also asked, in the case of the single girls $3.50 a week for clothing.

HILLCREST COLLIERIES EARNINGS ARE HIGHER

Net earnings at $16,250 for 1935 compared with $12,316 for 1934, were shown by the annual report of Hillcrest Collieries Limited, released in Montreal. Surplus after deduction of bond interest was $600, against deficit of $3,984 the preceding year.

Profit and loss/balance was carried forward at $231,681. President Sir Charles Gordon stated depressed business in western Canada had led to price-cutting, which, in conjunction with low tonnage available, made profitable operations difficult.

It was hoped that results of Sir Montague Barlow's investigation into the Alberta coal business, "will mean a wider market and better prices for our product," Sir Charles said.—Lethbridge Herald.

BARNUM WAS RIGHT

A certain New York restaurant man may be given credit for a rather novel window display. This man didn't have much money for advertising, so he bought the biggest fish bowl he could get hold of, filled it with water, and put it in the window, with this sign: "Filled with invisible gold fish from Argentine." It took seventeen policemen to handle the crowd.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

On Thursday last, the Home Helpers' Club held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. F. A. Tustian. This organization recently gave two pair of woolen blankets and a quilt to a needy family.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bougerolle are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son on Saturday, March 28th.

Harry Smyth has returned from Calgary, where he took a course of several weeks in Diesel engineering.

The Cowley Girls' Club was entertained by Miss Netta Swart at her home on Tuesday evening.

A five-hundred drive, sponsored by the ladies of the Anglican church, was held in the Masonic hall on Wednesday night. Prizes were won as follows: Mrs. Nelson Askew, ladies' first; Mrs. H. C. Morrison, consolation; M. A. Murphy, gents' first; Nelson Askew, consolation. An appetizing luncheon was served by the hostesses.

A bird, identified as Clark's nutcracker, made its appearance here, for the first time as far as we can learn, several days ago. It is still with us, and appears quite tame. Most of the time it is seen among the trees and around the buildings and garden of one of the Cowley residents.

Miss Dorothy Dwyer, Mrs. James Lote and daughter Grace, and Mr. Clarence Bundy and daughter Clare, were visitors to Calgary on Saturday to witness the hockey game.

Miss Dorothy Stainsby has gone to Granum, where she will spend several weeks with her sister Hazel.

A jolly affair took place on Thursday night last at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Dutton, at Frank, the occasion being the celebration of the coming of age of their eldest son, Bill. The Blairmore United church orchestra, with Ed. Royle as leader, and of which Bill is a member, were the principal guests. The affair commenced at 7 p.m., and until the break-up at 10 p.m. there was not a quiet minute. The orchestra members enjoyed the good eats, ice cream, candies, intermingled with orchestral selections and singing. Among those present were Misses Helen A. Royle, Dorothy Moore, Marion Oliver, Ortho Fulton, Alma Pozzi and Mesdames Pozzi and Royle.

The London press has forecast a split in the Aberhart party.

ANOTHER TAX

These are the dog days in taxation. Alberta dogs are to pay $1 a year each for the privilege of living. If they happen to be purebred, it's going to cost them $10 annually.

This is a tax, not a levy. Just a plain, common garden variety of tax. In order that the way may be opened for more and better taxes when the Legislature meets next winter for its second session, let us propose a few which should receive prayerful consideration in the interim:

- A tax on cats.
 - A tax on political clubs.
 - A tax on members of political clubs.
 - A tax on waking, and another on going to sleep.
 - A tax on getting up in the morning.
 - A tax on spring, summer, fall and winter.
 - A tax on the weatherman.
 - A tax on weather forecasters.
 - A tax on political forecasters.
 - And a special tax on the taxpayers.
- These are just by way of a little variety. If the taxing experts at Edmonton want a few more ideas to work on we can supply them without working overtime.

In the meantime, Alberta dogs are going to help carry the load.—Lethbridge Herald.

PACKING SILVER

Canadian Silver Dollars have come to stay and East Kootenay residents should set an example for the rest of British Columbia to encourage their use. Situated as we are in one of the greatest silver centres in Canada, it behooves the people of this district to pack around silver dollars and encourage their use at every opportunity. When we go on holidays to points all the coast and to Calgary and Alberta cities, the scattering of a few Canadian silver dollars will make Canadians like them, and in time they will be as much appreciated as the American silver dollar. The remark is often heard "they wear out your pockets." Most people are satisfied to have pockets worn out. We have tailors all about us who are only too anxious to rebuild worn pockets.—Cranbrook Courier.

HILLCREST HAPPENINGS

Rees Richards took in the Kimberley-Fort William hockey games at Calgary on Saturday and Monday. The stork visited the home of Mrs. D. Lockhart last week, leaving a baby boy.

The whist drive in the Catholic hall on Friday evening, sponsored by the Men's Social Credit group, was very well attended. Whist honors went to Mrs. E. Montigani, first; Mrs. F. Willets, second. The novel prizes were Social Credit bonds.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Stevenson and Miss Mary were Calgary visitors last week end.

Little Katherine Kyle was hostess last week at a party celebrating her sixth birthday.

The prize money drawn for in Cole's theatre on Wednesday was won by Mrs. Segar.

Mrs. Turner entertained her friends at a whist drive at her home on Friday night.

Mrs. P. Salt was a visitor to Calgary last week.

J. Calderwood was a visitor to Calgary over the week end.

R. Fumagalli, proprietor of the Red Trail Motors, was a business visitor to Calgary this week.

Premier Aberhart repeatedly has stated that our "cultural heritage" and natural resources would be the important factors in establishing his Social Credit plan. There is only one source from which dividends, pensions and relief allowances can be paid. That is from production which creates wealth. Millions of tons of coal in Alberta lying dormant will not pay anything. Only when it has been mined and converted into a marketable product can it be of value, and to do this economically, the use of large sums of money have first to be utilized in providing mining equipment and payment of wages.—Coleman Journal.

The steamship Vancouver, of the Hamburg American line, was arrested at Vancouver on March 17th on an admiralty court warrant issued as the result of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company of Canada, Limited, and La Neuchâtelaise Compagnie Suisse d'Assurance Generales of Switzerland. Plaintiffs claim $25,000 for damages to a large transformer which was consigned from the Swiss company to the mining company for its smelter at Trail. It is alleged that on November 26th the transformer was being unloaded from the vessel at the Vancouver Pacific Railway's dock at Vancouver with the latter company's large crane, when the crane buckled and the transformer fell into the hold of the ship and was damaged. The ship's officers have furnished bail and she has been released.

Eradication Of Tuberculosis

Great forward strides have been made in the fight to stem the toll of human life taken by tuberculosis in the prairie provinces in the past few years but there are evidences that they baffle victory has not yet been won. There is more work yet to be done before this enemy of mankind can be said to have been totally routed.

As most residents of that province are aware, tuberculosis in Saskatchewan was some years ago brought virtually within the category of State Medicine when the sanatoria were placed under the administration of the Saskatchewan Anti-Tuberculosis League, with authority given the League to impose an annual tax levy on all municipalities, rural and urban, which, supported by government grants, furnishes the finances for treatment of all cases of the disease found within the province. In addition, it should be added, the funds for supplementary preventive work are secured from voluntary contributions realized by the sale of Christmas seals.

While not quite patterned on the Saskatchewan system, the fight against the disease in Manitoba is waged along somewhat similar lines and at the time of writing the Alberta Legislature has a bill before it which will virtually place the war against T. B. in that province within the State Medicine plans, if adopted.

As a result of the work done in Saskatchewan during the past decade, that province can boast, and with justification, that it is in the van of the fight and has to-day the lowest death rate from tuberculosis of any province in the Dominion, 30 per 1,000 deaths for last year.

Facts and figures show that, partly as a result of the preventive work, the incidence of the disease in Saskatchewan has passed the peak, that the former upward curve of the number of cases treated annually is now trending in a downward direction and that, as a further result, space in hospitals which have had to care for an overflow for which provision could not be made in the sanatoria, is no longer required for T.B. cases. An additional result is that patients in the sanatoria can be held there for treatment longer than was formerly possible, thus improving their chances of complete recovery.

While this is all to the good, there yet remain two real hazards to be definitely eradicated. These are the menace afforded by the Indian and the cow.

In the early days when the Indians roamed the prairies and lived in the open tuberculosis was practically unknown among them. It was not until they were taught to adopt the habits of the whites and confine themselves in permanent homes that they became subject to tuberculosis. Since that time the disease has become rampant among the aborigines and is taking heavy toll. In other words, the "whites" presented the Indians with tuberculosis and to-day the Indians are returning the compliment by infecting the whites with whom they come in frequent contact.

Figures were recently quoted showing that the incidence of tuberculosis among the Indian population of the prairie provinces is ten times as great as among the white inhabitants and it appears that very little at present is being done to cope with the menace.

The Indians are the wards of the Federal government and this is a situation which should receive the immediate attention of the authorities at Ottawa, if the efforts of the provincial governments in reducing the disease among the other residents of the provinces are not to be at least partially negated.

The other danger spot in the situation is the prevalence of bovine tuberculosis among cattle. While much has been done to reduce this disease among the cattle of the prairie provinces and to minimize the risk of infection from cattle to human beings via the milk route, there is still danger of infection from this source and will continue to be until it has been entirely stamped out of the herds.

Eradication will not be complete until such time as compulsory inspection of cattle for bovine tuberculosis and slaughter of all reactors in the entire zone of the three provinces is in effect, but this consumption cannot be achieved until there is a sufficiently strong public demand for it.

Until that time farmers and residents of the smaller towns and villages outside of the T.B. free zones are subject to risk of contagion by milk from cattle suffering from bovine tuberculosis. This risk, however, could be materially minimized if farmers and others owning milch cattle would in the meantime, have their cattle tested at their own expense and slaughter reactors. By so doing, they can at least afford protection for their own families and their customers.

It is true that such action might result in some immediate financial loss to cattle owners who take this precaution, but it might be less expensive in the long run to continue to take chances of infection from that source.

May Move Woolwich Arsenal

Vulnerability Of London To Air Attacks Is Reason Given

New emphasis on the vulnerability of London to air attack is found in reports that the government is seriously considering moving sections of Woolwich Arsenal to more remote places in the British Isles.

Talk of its removal has given the alarmists new occasion to paint a picture of gas, incendiary and explosive bombs, raining down upon the city—a city which already knows from experience, of the terror of air raids.

It has provided proponents of a stronger air defence with new arguments in their claims that London, with its 8,000,000 inhabitants, and easily accessible from the continent, is not protected against the bombing plane.

Winston Churchill likened London to a "great fat cow which would soon be at the mercy of the nearest foraging dictator."

Public concern is likewise being fanned by current discussion in the press and in parliament as to the ability of the navy to defend itself against air attack. Contrasting this, however, there is the expansion, both real and indicated, of the Royal Air Force; the development of air defence; the hinted discovery of anti-aircraft weapons which would keep air invaders at bay, despite the fact London is but a matter of minutes from the continent by air.

Those who want the Woolwich Arsenal moved claim it has so far been the "fatally weak spot" in every defence plan yet devised for London. No way has been found, it is stated, of protecting the arsenal and rendering it immune from attack from the skies.

King's Birthday

His Majesty Will Ride At Head Of His Troops On Anniversary

King Edward will ride at the head of his troops for the first time as sovereign when he celebrates his 42nd birthday, June 23.

It was officially announced His Majesty's birthday will be celebrated in London and at all stations of the royal navy, the army and the royal air force at home and abroad.

The principal function will be the trooping of the colors on the Horse Guards' parade. This was a ceremony always observed by the late King George, and on his last birthday, June 3, His late Majesty rode with his four sons in the picturesque ceremonial.

His Majesty's ships will be dressed over for the occasion, and royal salutes of 21 guns will be fired at certain stations. Land forces will hold ceremonial parades.

War Is Still On

Due To Omission In Participating In Signing Of Peace Treaties

A recent incident has revealed the fact that the republic of San Marino is still at war with Turkey.

The manager of a Turkish agricultural institute recently spent a few months in Europe in connection with scientific studies. When he crossed into the territory of San Marino he was greatly astonished when he was arrested as an undesirable national of a country at war with the republic.

In 1915 San Marino joined Italy in a declaration of war on Turkey, but owing to some omission, it was invited neither to participate in the peace negotiations nor to sign the treaty of Lausanne with Turkey.

Subjects of the republic of San Marino in Turkey have always been treated as Italian nationals.

Harness 80 Years Old Is Still Being Used

Some kind of record may be claimed for a set of harness in almost daily use in the Orkney district of Saskatchewan. The harness is said to be around 80 years in use, having come to the United States in 1870 and found its way via Minnesota to Saskatchewan. Formerly used to decorate thoroughbred stallions and mares, it is now used on ponies which draw children to school.

Testing Television System

British Broadcasting Company To Stage Program Very Soon

The world's first government-controlled television programs will be broadcast very soon when the British Broadcasting Company stages "hear-and-see" tests from Alexandra Palace.

Plans already are afoot to "televise" King Edward VIII next Christmas Day when he goes before the microphone to extend his Christmas greetings to the empire. If this royal innovation is successful the King's coronation—probably in May or June—will be the first to be televised from Westminster Abbey in all its centuries-old pomp and splendor.

Converting of Alexandra Palace, an ornate remnant of Victorian days atop a hill in North London, into a television station is being rushed, and postoffice engineers are laying the television cable connecting London and Birmingham. The cable costs $5,000 a mile, but when completed will carry a load of 200 separate telephone conversations when not in television use.

Plans already are afoot to "televise" King Edward VIII next Christmas Day when he goes before the microphone to extend his Christmas greetings to the empire. If this royal innovation is successful the King's coronation—probably in May or June—will be the first to be televised from Westminster Abbey in all its centuries-old pomp and splendor.

The only hitch is that few Britons will have television sets when the first "televized" broadcasts are made. They'll have to go to a theatre or public hall. Manufacturers, although they say they have perfected moderately priced receiving outfits, cannot place them on the market with any guarantee of good reception until they have had an opportunity of cutting them in on regular transmissions from Alexandra Palace. This will take two or three months after the first tests.

Broadcasting officials and equipment manufacturers say that "look-in" sets will be established in England by next winter and that receiving sets will be sold at from $85 to $350.

Concession To Indians

May Carry On With Potlatch Ceremony In British Columbia

Indians of the Alert Bay district in British Columbia were given another chance by the House of Commons to practice their ancient potlatch, once a regular orgy but now outlawed because of its wastefulness.

The potlatch has been dying out in recent years and is limited to Indians of the Kwakwaka'wakw agency on the Pacific coast who have refused to observe laws outlawing it. It is a sort of generosity spree in its present-day form. Indians collect all sorts of things, food, blankets or household utensils, call in their friends and give everything away. They have been known to impoverish themselves for years.

The Indian act provides jail sentences for Indians practicing the potlatch, but the Alert tribe had disregarded it. Indian Minister Crerar proposed a bill in the house making the laws and more stringent. It was a second reading but he dropped the anti-potlatch clauses in committee stage after A. W. Neil (Ind., Comox-Alberni) led a strenuous opposition to it.

The jail sentences still stand but the house decided to permit the customary influences of education, which have stamped it out almost, to continue to combat it.

Air Conditioned Trains

C.N.R. Lines To Adopt This Innovation During 1936

Air-conditioning of principal lines of the Canadian National Railway system will be undertaken during 1936, according to the annual report tabled in the House of Commons. While the board of trustees decided there was no economic justification for any wholesale replacement of equipment, nor were there financial resources available for such a program, the air-conditioning of main passenger trains was a necessity.

During the year 1935 authority was given for the retirement of 16,912 units of obsolete equipment involving a charge against profit and loss account of $23,238,857. At the same time orders were placed for 100 gondola cars essential to traffic requirements on the Grand Trunk western.

Home Life In Russia

Speaker Says Life In Russia Much The Same To-Day As In Other Countries

Homes in Russia where whole families were crowded into one, two and—if fortunate—three rooms, were mentioned in an address at the Women's Canadian Club at Ottawa by Miss Hobe Spaul, member of the staff of the League of Nations in London.

She then told of clubs in the same city where children from seven to 17 attend their own theatres and cinemas, keep their white mice, canaries and other animals in the "pet rooms," do their homework under the supervision of qualified teachers, take up any hobby they choose or join an orchestra.

Home life in Russian cities to-day is much the same as in other countries, except for the "appalling" overcrowding, according to Miss Spaul, who said huge blocks of flats and skyscrapers were being built but could not keep pace with the increasing city population.

The average Russian has a normal family life. There are creches and kindergartens for children of working mothers, clubs for adults and "magnificently" organized clubs for children. Education is optional for children from five to seven years of age, but is compulsory for those from seven to 17.

The clubs are a useful innovation that owing to crowded home conditions have become necessary. The new cities are not quite so crowded and conditions with families living in self-contained flats with gas, electric light and telephone are similar to those on this continent.

Marriage is regarded as permanent, divorces are still easy to obtain, but regulations relating to dissolving marriages are being tightened, Miss Spaul remarked. "The Russians have seen their mistake." Interest in the welfare of children is the main objective of the present laws.

Musician And Artist

Man Made Beautiful Violin From Matches And Toothpicks

Piece by piece, section by section, John Swiatkowski of Windsor, Ont., spent one year in making a violin of match sticks and toothpicks, until he has a remarkable instrument which experts say has tone and quality. More than 15,000 sections were matched with infinite care.

Not only a musician, John, 23 years of age, is an artist as well. On the reverse side of the violin, he has included the picture of a beautiful woman whose eyes alone comprise 60 tiny pieces of wood; a rose whose every petal and thorn stand out against the workmanship of the background of the instrument's reversed side.

The designs have been inlaid across the grain of the thousands of matched pieces without affecting the mellow tone.

In some sections, John explained, the violin contains three thicknesses of match sticks and toothpicks, to give the proper strength and shape.

After Clinical Tests

Bacteriologist Is Convinced Leprosy Not Contagious Disease

Efforts to keep alive the causative organism of leprosy have virtually established the fact that the disease is not contagious. That is the conclusion of Dr. A. J. Sale, assistant professor of bacteriology at the University of California. Taking as a basis for his work clinical tests that had been made at the Kallithea leprosy hospital, on the outskirts of Honolulu, Dr. Sale successfully checked them for six months at the Federal leprosy sanatorium at Carville, La.

The King's English

Recent Address Broadcast By Edward VIII. Was Good Sample

The papers freely discussed the address delivered by King Edward VIII. on March 1, the first to his people since ascending the throne. Considerable attention is given his choice of language and pronunciation. It is pointed out for instance, that he used the word "radio," rather than "wireless," thus accepting the designation more common in Canada and the United States than in the Old Country. Another commentator mentions his pronunciation of "broadcast," with the short "a" as used in Canada and United States rather than the English inflection "broadeast." All seem to agree that he was as correct in his pronunciation as in his selection of styles and words.

Something, too, when it is realized that the new King was probably as nervous as any other ordinary man would be in approaching the microphone on such an auspicious occasion and, therefore, liable to some slight slip in pronunciation or articulation. — Port Arthur News Chronicle.

Medals For Scouts

Two Alberta And Three Nova Scotia Scouts Receive Recognition

Ottawa—Lord Tweedsmuir, chief scout for Canada, awarded medals and certificates to two Alberta and three Nova Scotia Boy Scouts for gallantry in life saving.

Scouts Tony Orton and George McCallum of High River, Alta., received certificates of merit for the rescue last summer of a boy who had become exhausted and frightened while learning to swim in Baker creek.

Scout C. B. Young, Hanover, N.S., was awarded a silver cross, given for gallantry at serious risk, and the gilt cross was awarded to Scouts B. Kirkpatrick and W. Hancock, also of Hanover, for considerable risk, for the difficult rescue of two sisters, aged 11 and 13, who were caught in an undertow on the shore-side area of a steamship lying in the Avon river.

Advice From Chicago

Two Women Cabled League Delegates To Exercise Caution

Chicago, before the League of Nations council was to start on March 17 a messenger boy peddled up to St. James' Palace bearing 14 urgent cablegrams, one to the head of each delegation.

They were from two Chicago women urging the delegates to exercise the calmest and most thoughtful statesmanship while dealing with the ticklish situation.

"Aren't people funny?"

"Yes. If you sell a man that there are 270,678,934,341 stars in the universe he'll believe you—but if a sign says 'Fresh Paint,' that same man has to make a personal investigation."

EXPECTANT MOTHERS

WOMEN who suffer periodically from headache or dizziness may have side-ache or headache, and those about to become mothers will find Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a dependable tonic.

Read what Mrs. Mary Hutchinson of Toronto, Ont., says: "I became extremely nervous before the birth of my son and so weak I could hardly be on my feet. I suffered from dizziness and headache in the morning and at night. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription helped me to lose any more strength would be dangerous. I started taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took it all during this period of pregnancy. My son, New Ann, was born, healthy and strong."

LLOYD GEORGE WARNS AGAINST MILITARY PACTS

London.—David Lloyd George, Great Britain's wartime prime minister, uttered a dramatic warning of the "dangers" of a military convention in the House of Commons.

Speaking on the debate on the European situation following a statement to the house by Anthony Eden, foreign secretary, Lloyd George said:

"The moment you make a military convention, power at a time of crisis passes from governments to the military man."

Lloyd George, with oratory that held the house spellbound, uttered a dramatic warning against the dangers of a military alliance. The French were taking "an absolutely different view to ourselves as regards the steps taken by the powers failed to reach an agreement."

"There ought to be no ambiguity," the war-time prime minister asserted, "about a subject involving the lives of millions of young men."

He would ask the government: Do military measures come into operation merely upon failure of negotiations or only when there is an act of unprovoked aggression? He was sorry to see that Eden stood by the military convention.

Dramatically he described how in 1914 military measures had thwarted negotiations and precipitated war. "The military convention is the shortest cut to ghastly mechanical carnage," he declared.

Lloyd George emphasized he was not defending France's position in the Locarno treaty. He said there was a greater crime. "His greatest offence was that in the inflammatory condition of Europe he should have committed so reckless an act."

"He organized a forthright procession through a powder magazine and there has been very nearly a very shattering explosion."

Sir Austen Chamberlain, who as foreign secretary negotiated the Locarno treaty, declared the real issue was whether in the future force or law should prevail. "Unless something could be done to restore confidence in treaties no new treaty would be possible."

Alluding to what other speakers had described as "Hitler's reassuring utterances," Sir Austen exclaimed: "You find plenty of them. The German chancellor had offered peace for 25 years, but Germany already was bound under the Kellogg-Briand pact never to use war as an instrument of policy."

Referring to Germany's offer to rejoin the League of Nations, Sir Austen said Germany had already indicated she expected the return of her colonies shortly afterwards.

Alluding to the persecution of Jews in Germany he said: "We have got to recognize that German standards and German ethics are not ours." He referred to the glorification of war in German schools, and remarked it was "these things that matter more than the remilitarization of the Rhineland, that are at stake."

Sir Austen dryly described Germany's 1924 diplomacy.

"An ultimatum here, an ultimatum there, another ultimatum somewhere else, each time confronting this country or that with brutal force if it did not surrender, each time that diplomacy by force, with mailed fist and shining armor, prevailing over reason, arguments, truth and obligations, in some cases."

"And then the same procedure once too often, and the world in arms, resisting aggression. Unless we learn a lesson, unless the world can be assured that it is not in these ways that our quarrels will be settled, we are steadily marching back to a new 1914."

Letter To King Edward

Toronto.—Olivia Dionne's letter to King Edward VIII. asking that custody of his quintuplets be restored to him has returned to Ontario. It was received from Ottawa by Hon. H. C. Nixon, provincial secretary, who passed it on to Welfare Minister Croll. Mr. Croll, it is expected, will answer the letter, explaining that the king, who has the five babies as his wards, is determined to keep control of them for the present at least.

Turkey Denies Report

London.—Turkish sources in London denied the Turkish government had decided to remilitarize the Dardanelles. British and League of Nations quarters declared they had no knowledge of such a question being raised by Turkey.

New Dionne Film

Fight For Control Of Quintuplets To Be Told In Pictures

Hollywood.—Indication the fight of Olivia and Elzire Dionne for complete custody of their quintuplet daughters is to be told in pictures was seen in an announcement from the Universal studio.

Charles Rogers, who recently assumed control of that studio, said he had signed Mr. and Mrs. Dionne and their five older children for a screen play titled "Where Are My Children."

The picture, Rogers said, will be filmed here. He did not disclose when the French-Canadian parents of the quintuplets and their older children would arrive from Calander, Ont., to go before the cameras.

The Dionnes have sought, through many avenues, to regain custody of the five famous babies, now approaching their second birthdays. Olivia revealed recently she had petitioned King Edward in the matter a month ago. It was learned the letter had been returned to the governor-general of Canada and eventually forwarded to the Ontario government for a reply.

The quintuplets, wards of the king and watched over by an official board of guardians, are presently making an international hit on the screen. They are appearing in "The Country Doctor."

To Supervise Fisheries Patrol

Appointment For Man Who Resigned

Ottawa.—The government position given James J. Larabee, of Eilon, P.E.I., who resigned in Quebec to make a vacancy for Finance Minister Dunning, calls for supervision over operation of the fisheries patrol services with a view to effecting economies.

Documents relative to the appointment were tabled in the House of Commons at the request of A. J. Brooks (Cons., Royal). They showed that Mr. Larabee, member-elect for Quebec, had been made "special officer in the fisheries protective service" at $3,500 salary with traveling and living expenses when away from home.

The order instructed Mr. Larabee to devote his full time to supervision of operation of the fisheries protective vessels and the fisheries patrol boards on the Atlantic. He was not to interfere with their operations or routine of work, but to report to the department, suggested means of effecting economies.

School Grants Remain Same

Saskatchewan Cannot Make Any Increase Until Next Year

Saskatoon.—There will be no increase in Saskatchewan school grants this year, C. W. McCool, K.C., chairman, told the high school board here. He said he had been in conversation with Premier W. J. Patterson and the premier had stated the province would be in no position to increase the grants until after another crop had been harvested.

The answer was given by the chairman of the board in response to a question from a board member. In replying, Mr. McCool said the premier had assured him increases would be given next year.

Calgary.—Endorsement of the Farmers' Creditors' Arrangement Act, the Canadian chamber of agriculture and the soil conservation program in the three prairie provinces was given here by directors and officials of the three prairie wheat pools before they concluded a three-day conference.

The Natural Products Marketing Act was approved in principle. It was felt the act was in the best interests of Canadian agriculture and such legislation should be effective throughout Canada.

Judge Of Supreme Court

Ottawa.—A. B. Hudson, K.C., of Winnipeg, former attorney-general of Manitoba, was appointed to the vacancy on the bench of the supreme court of Canada, succeeding the late Mr. Justice J. H. Lamont. Announcement of the appointment was made by Justice Minister Lapointe after a meeting of cabinet.

Edmonton.—Registration of Alberta citizens who would be eligible for Social Credit basic dividends has been postponed indefinitely, Premier Albertus said in explaining lack of action since the plan was announced last autumn.

LIVELY DEBATE IN COMMONS OVER WHEAT PAYMENT

Ottawa.—Temper flared and harsh words echoed across the House of Commons when Conservative Leader Bennett accused Agriculture Minister Gardiner of charging him with falsifying an order-in-council referring to wheat payments.

In the wildest scene of the session, the former prime minister demanded a full investigation of the circumstances related by the minister, but this more or less disappeared when Mr. Gardiner said he made no accusations against Mr. Bennett. He had, he said, made "no intimation as to a plain statement of fact that goes under your hide."

The facts of the case were these: On Oct. 10, 1935, four days before the election, the Bennett government passed an order-in-council providing for payment of money to western pool farmers who did not receive 60 cents a bushel for their 1935 crop.

The agriculture minister said there was added in pen and ink to the report to council, the basis for the order-in-council, a stipulation the money should not be paid until an auditor's certificate was received. This was added, he said, after a telegram was sent from a finance department official in Toronto to a department official in Ottawa, Mr. Bennett being in Toronto that day.

The Conservative leader accused the minister of relating the story in order to leave the implication an order-in-council had been falsified after passage. Otherwise, he said, there could be no purpose in relating it.

Mr. Gardiner denied the implication. He related the story, he said, to show the Bennett government, by adding the stipulation relating to the auditor's report, had delayed payments. If the words added in ink had not been included, payments could have been made immediately.

Mr. Bennett insisted the words were added to protect the public treasury and delay was not in the government's mind.

The whole scene threw the house into a turmoil which at times ran to heavy drama and at other times to slap-stick comedy. The drama was interjected by Mr. Bennett referring to his record for integrity and his honor built up through the years which now was being impugned.

There were several periods of comedy with Mr. Bennett and Mr. Gardiner arguing for five minutes at a stretch who had the right to speak. At another time the Conservative leader and the minister passed the order-in-council and the auditor's report back and forth between them, asking questions and answering them.

Requests Immediate Action

Solving Of Railway Problem Asked By Canadian Chamber Of Commerce

Montreal.—"Immediate and effective action to solve our urgent and pressing railway problem," was asked by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in a communication dispatched to government authorities at Ottawa. Recommendations were made to the government by the chamber, "in view of the serious financial situation of Canada."

The chamber also recommended that power to regulate rates and service, now in the hands of the government, should be carefully protected, and if necessary the functions and authority of the board of railway commissioners should be extended.

Naval Officer Slain

Vice-Admiral Somerville Murdered In His Home In Ireland

Castle-town, Ireland.—Vice-Admiral Henry Boyle Townshend Somerville, senior naval officer at Halifax, N.S., in 1917, was murdered by one of four gunmen who invaded his home and shot him dead.

Driving up in an automobile, the quartet rushed into the vice-admiral's residence. One of them drew a revolver and discharged it at Somerville. Then they all ran out.

The only witness to the murder was the naval officer's wife who was too grief-stricken to give a detailed account of the slaying.

The motive for the killing was not disclosed.

Wheat Board Probe

Minister Of Trade And Commerce Is Appointed Chairman

Ottawa.—The house committee to inquire into the operations of the wheat board chose Hon. W. D. Bader, minister of trade and commerce, as its chairman. He said the committee was established because of charges made by Conservative Leader Bennett in connection with sale of wheat by the new wheat board.

The house will be asked to grant the committee permission to employ counsel and an auditor if the committee finds it advisable.

The chairman will appoint a sub-committee of five to prepare an agenda.

Italian Air Power

Says Air Fleet In A Position To Sweep Mediterranean

Rome.—"The Italian air fleet is in a position to sweep the Mediterranean. No point in the Mediterranean can escape our control."

These strident declarations by General Giuseppe Valle, Italian under-secretary of aviation, sent the chamber of deputies into wild cheers.

Continuing his address to the chamber of deputies, General Valle asserted that Italy's bombing planes, each carrying 3,300 pounds of bombs, could cover every section of the Mediterranean and that the present air strength was well on the way to being doubled. He did not, however, reveal the present strength.

General Valle announced that Italy had completed her reserve stocks of fuel and oil for her air fleet and could meet any war contingencies.

Numerous air bases will be maintained in East Africa, even after the war with Ethiopia is concluded, to police the newly-conquered territory, Valle said, adding that at the present time 25 airports had been built in Eritrea and 54 in Somalia.

As for flying training, he said that only three fatalities had occurred in 33,000 hours of training between 1933 and 1935.

Mayors Appoint Committee

All Provinces Represented On Group To Continue Efforts

Ottawa.—A continuing committee of twelve members, on which all provinces have representation, was appointed at the Dominion conference of mayors.

Western members on the committee were Manitoba, John Queen, Winnipeg; Saskatchewan, H. S. Johnson, Moose Jaw; Alberta, A. Davidson, Calgary; British Columbia, David Leeming, Victoria; G. G. McGeer, Vancouver.

During a business session the finance committee, among other things reported disapproval of lotteries. Members called for a standing vote and the report was approved 27 to 14.

CONTINUANCE OF NAVAL ARMS PARITY ASSURED

London.—Great Britain and the United States guaranteed the continuance of their parity in naval armaments just before these two nations and France signed the new London naval treaty, dropping restrictions on the size of the world's greatest navies.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and the chief American delegate, Norman H. Davis, exchanged letters, each declaring the principle of parity, contained in existing treaties with regard to their two fleets, would continue to hold good after the old treaties expire and the new one goes into effect.

The new pact, replacing the Washington naval limitations treaty of 1922 and the London treaty of 1930, limited neither the number nor the tonnage of the fleets of the three participating powers, but introduced a new scheme for advance notification of naval building programs.

Delegates to the international conference which shaped the new treaty expressed hope the program for exchanges of information would curb any sea armaments race for at least six years.

The new treaty also limited the sizes of the individual types of warships and inaugurated a building holiday for the larger type of cruisers, in place of the battleship building holiday which endured for 14 years under the expiring Washington treaty.

Any power can build as many ships of any type as desired—a move prohibited under both the Washington and the old London treaties, expiring Dec. 31, 1936.

The powers hoped the new treaty would go into effect immediately upon expiration of the old, or as soon as ratification could be completed, to remain in effect until Dec. 31, 1942.

Limitations on the size of battleships remained at 35,000 tons, but the powers agreed to consider in 1940 a possible reduction in size if experiments on new vessels proved this practical. The maximum size of guns was set provisionally at 14 inches, but the five signatories of the Washington treaty—Britain, United States, France, Italy and Japan—must ratify this by Jan. 1, 1937, or the 16-inch limit will remain in effect.

GUARANTEE SEED GRAIN LOANS FOR SASKATCHEWAN

Ottawa.—Dominion government guarantees of seed grain loans for Saskatchewan up to a maximum of $4,000,000 would be authorized under a bill introduced in the House of Commons by Finance Minister Dunning. The bill received first reading after a brief debate.

During the past season considerable damage was caused in the west by rust with the result the grain is no good for seed, said Mr. Dunning. This condition was particularly bad in Saskatchewan.

The Saskatchewan government now had legislation under which it co-operated with municipalities in assisting farmers to obtain seed grain. The province guaranteed bank loans obtained by municipalities for seed purchase. The purpose of the bill was to add the guarantee of federal government to that of the province in order to enable the lowest possible interest rate to be obtained.

The aggregate amount which might be guaranteed was $4,000,000 and provision was made that if the federal government should be called upon to make good any portion of the guarantee the province would reimburse it or deposit securities of a corresponding amount with the federal authorities. The term of the guarantee would be three years.

Hon. H. H. Stevens, long Reconstructionist, asked why the government could not loan to farmers some of the actual wheat in its possession on which elevator charges were being paid instead of guaranteeing bank loans in which interest would have to be paid. The burden of elevator charges would be reduced.

The idea had been considered, said Mr. Dunning. It would involve many complications and the method proposed was simpler. In its working it would have the effect Mr. Stevens desired. The wheat board had grain in elevators all over the west and would sell the grain required for seed. In that way elevator charges would be reduced. The machinery in existence was being used instead of setting up new machinery.

Replying to a question from G. W. MacDonald (Lib., Souris), Mr. Dunning said he understood Manitoba would not need similar assistance.

Canadian Legion Meetings

Decide To Alternate Between Eastern And Western Centres

Vancouver.—The Canadian Legion turned down a proposal that all future conventions be held at Ottawa and decided they be alternated between eastern and western centres with the Dominion executive empowered to call a convention if an emergency arises.

It was also decided that a convention be held in Ottawa shortly after each Dominion election, and that not more than two years elapse between conventions.

Reginald Alex Ross, Yorkton, Sask., Dominion president, introduced the motion that all conventions be held in Ottawa. He felt that Ottawa was closer to the heart of legion activities and meetings there would help cut down expenses.

British Columbia delegates introduced the amendment that the meetings be alternated between east and west and this carried. The next convention city will be decided upon by a vote of the membership.

W. J. BARTLETT, PUBLISHER

Blairmore, Alta., Fri., April 3, 1936

A rumor is being circulated to the effect that the name of that famous boulevard in Blairmore is to be changed to "Social Credit Boulevard," or "Aberhart Boulevard."

The appearance of eight inches of new snow here on Friday last helped to usher out the month of March in a real lion's way. The month came in lamb-like for Albertans, and prevailed that way until about a week from the finish of the month.

If Mr. Aberhart had bought bonds with the understanding he was to receive 3 or 3½ per cent interest until stated maturity, wonder how he'd like to have any portion of that interest cut off for the benefit of the average Albertan.

According to information from the Lethbridge bond houses, there is not only no business in Alberta bonds, but in Saskatchewan bonds, following the default of the Alberta government in meeting their bonds which matured on April 1st. With practically no bidding whatever, there is no quotation for Alberta bonds.

New means of taxes are being considered by those who promised practically no taxation. Taxing last year's fall of snow is just about on a par with the privilege granted school districts and municipalities of taxing a man's stock of merchandise as soon as it appears on the shelves of a new store.

Miners of Wayne and Rosedale subscribed 661 towards what is understood to be the Corbin strike fund. They are not aware, probably, that it wasn't the strike that closed Corbin, but the mine company, and there is no reason why anyone should have remained there.

Suit for $10,000 damages against Col. S. T. Wood, assistant commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in Saskatchewan, for false arrest and wrongful imprisonment June 27th last, has been started in Regina with the filing of writ for Rev. S. B. East. This is an aftermath of the co-to-Ottawa trek.

An exchange properly remarks: The busy stores are those which send to their customers' living rooms the home newspaper containing the stores' advertisements of products and prices properly and legibly printed. Through The Enterprise the thrifty housewife reads the store specials and buys accordingly.

According to the Cranbrook Herald of March 27th, 1906, the first shipment of coal from the mines at Hillcrest was made during that week—about a half dozen cars. The coal was hauled by mules about three quarters of a mile to an incline, to be lowered to the tipples and into railway cars.

The recall legislation introduced into the Alberta legislature is so involved and impossible that it would have been better never to have been drawn up. Anyway the recall is not a satisfactory adjunct to democratic government. It is an importation from the United States, and never even worked satisfactorily in the land of its birth—Hanna Herald.

Federal Finance Minister Dunning spoke very plainly in stating that all public services must be paid for by the people of Canada, and the only source of wealth lies in production. All relief costs must be paid for by those whose earnings are taxed. Highway costs, deficits of the C.N.R., governmental costs, all are paid by the people employed—Coleman Journal.

CHARCOAL (O-PE-O-WAN)

In the old hotel rotunda,
Round the big pot-bellied stove,
With the fires in winter thundering
Like the elements of Jove,
I have thrilled in savage wonder,
As the old time tales were told
By the men who braved the prairie
In the dangerous days of old.

Old hunters and prospectors
From many a foreign shore,
Old riders of the round-up,
Now gone for evermore,
When winter storms were raging
And death lurked on the range,
Sat there and talked of bygone days
Adventurous and strange.

Wild tales of whiskey trading,
Of fearsome Indian fight,
Of men who rustled horses
Across the line at night;
And oftentimes some old timer
Would tell the tale anew,
Of the time they hunted Charcoal,
And the men that Charcoal slew.

It seems a buck called Charcoal
Found another with his squaw,
So he laughed at white man's justice
And invoked the Indian law.
With a thirty-rifle rifle
He shot him through the head.
And let the squaw ki-yi-ing
For a lover that was dead.

Then the long pent racial hatred
Of the Indian for the white,
And the knowledge that they'd hang him

Put the Indian on the fight.
So he tried to shoot the agent
Ere he took his horse and fled.
Now an Indian on the warpath
Must be got alive or dead.

Reports, of course, were rampant,
Of places he'd been seen.
'Tis known from dark to dawning
He'd put sixty miles between.
But the trails were closely guarded
By the mounties from the post—
Their orders were, "Go get your man."

With them no idle boast.
At last they hit the Indian's trail.
Out near the Kootenai camp,
And Wildge, who tried to ride him down,

Was killed himself, poor chap.
For the Indian from the saddle.
Turned and shot him as they ran,
And the Sergeant fell from off his horse

A sorely wounded man.
Then Charcoal caught the Sergeant's
horse

And took the Sergeant's gun,
He shot and killed the wounded man.
Then looking toward the sun
He sang the death-song of his foe,
Defiant of the day

When the long arm of the mounties
Was sure to make him pay.

A bunch of riders volunteered
To track him in the snow—
John Herron (once a mountie),
Craig, Foote and Thibodeau—
And they chased him from the foothills

To the Blood reserve once more,
Where the Indian sought refuge
At his brother's cabin door.

He must have been high starving,
When he ventured near his kin.
For the dirty double-crossers
Helped the mounties take him in.
So they hanged the Indian, Charcoal,
By the night of white man's law,
'Cause he shot a mountie sergeant
And the man who stole his squaw.

SPRING THOUGHT

Says the bottled bantam rooster
To the old red bowlegged hen,
'We haven't kept our store-bills paid
Not since the Lord knows when;
We're years behind the mortgage,
The Echo's long past due,
I need new teeth an' tires an' pants,
My shoes are wore right through.

But the clouds are slowly rollin' by,
The skies are turning blue,
An' still we strive to keep alive
'Till Aberhart comes through—
For we're on the way to dividend days,
The road is hard and cold
But round the bend we'll see the end,
Some day before we're old.

Now Aunt Lindy's got bad tonsils,
An' the doctor hopes to see
His payment for the last three kids
The next one's C.O.D.
The price of gas is risin',
The cost of funerals high—
Seems like we can't afford to live,
An' can't afford to die.

But the clouds are slowly rollin' by,
The promised land's in view;
The day when earth begins rebirth
On Townsend's I.O.U.
For we're on the way to dividend day,
The road is hard and cold—
But round the bend we'll see the end,
Some day before we're old.

So, get out my carpet slippers,
An' your old black bombazine.
What's that? You say you got no
socks,
Then wash your shinsbones clean,
Put perfume on your eyebrows,
Some rangles on your tail;
We'll go to town an' dance all night
Or spend all week in jail.

For the clouds are slowly rollin' by,
Put perfume on your eyebrows,
An' some day soon we'll ride the moon
Across a golden sea.
Oh! we're on the way to dividend day,
The road is hard and cold—
But round the bend we'll see the end,
Some day before we're old."

COULD NOT SLEEPbecause of Headaches!*Now well again and gains weight

"I used to have headaches so severe I could not sleep. I tried everything without success until I started Fruit-A-Tives. In a short time I gained weight and never suffer any more from the old bad headaches," says Mrs. J. Scriber, 258 East 5th St., Minneapolis, Minn. Fruit-A-Tives are not habit-forming nor do they give just temporary relief. They contain extracts of APPLES, ORANGES, FIGS, PRUNES and HERBS and work naturally to cleanse and tone up the entire system. Fruit-A-Tives have brought permanent relief to thousands. Try them today.

Book Of Remembrance

Will Contain Approximately 68,000 Names Of Canadian Soldiers

Satisfactory progress is being made with the book of remembrance to be placed in the memorial chamber of the parliament buildings at Ottawa, J. R. Bowler, general secretary of the Canadian Legion, reported to the sixth Dominion convention at Vancouver.

The book will contain approximately 68,000 names of Canadians who gave their lives in the war, from Aug. 4, 1914, to April 30, 1922. The date on which the last member of the overseas military forces of Canada was demobilized. It will also contain a page without names dedicated to those who have died, or may die, from war causes subsequent to April 30, 1922.

The work of preparing the book of remembrance was begun four years ago by James Purves, heraldic artist and illuminator of London, Ont.

Youth CongressTo Obtain Expression Of Opinion On Peace Policy

A congress of Canadian people will be held in Ottawa, May 23, 24 and 25. Delegates and representatives from youth organizations of every opinion from every part of Canada, will participate.

The congress is being called to obtain an expression of general youth opinion on "A Peace Policy for Canada" and "Youth in the Canadian Economy." Mutual agreement will be sought on these problems to be used as a guide to the Canadian delegation to the World Youth Congress in Geneva in early September.

It is being called by a committee under the chairmanship of T. W. L. MacDermot, principal of Upper Canada College. Initiated by the League of Nations Society in Canada and the Canadian Youth Council, this committee is being enlarged to include representatives from all national young people's organizations, including the political groups, and regional representatives from various parts of Canada.

The agenda as prepared by the committee, includes, under the heading, "Youth in the Canadian Economy," discussions on employment, education and vocational training, recreation and social legislation. Under the heading, "A Peace Policy for Canada," discussion will be directed to Canada's relation to the Empire and to the League of Nations, the right of governments to commit people to war and the control of raw materials. The first discussion, in the form of summary, if headed "The Duty of Canadian Youth" in particular relation to Canada, to the world, to the promotion of the ideals of the congress and the understanding of the problems of youth.

The committee is working on some plan to materially reduce the expense to delegates from distant points. Headquarters for the congress committee are at 92 Adelaide Street West, Toronto.

Aviation ExpansionUrge That Royal Canadian Air Force Be Brought Up To Date

Expansion of commercial aviation in Canada and bringing "up to date" of the Royal Canadian Air Force were urged in a resolution passed unanimously by the annual convention of the Canadian Legion in Vancouver.

The resolution stated that "the federal government is not at present giving adequate assistance to the development of commercial flying in Canada and that the government is bringing about without further delay some plan of definite assistance to all commercial operators."

It was further advocated unemployed labor be used in the development and completion of airports in Canada, that the Canadian airway be completed and put into operation with as little delay as possible, and that special consideration should be given to the northern operator to assist in the development of mining areas.

A Valuable AssetGood English Will Enable One To Talk Convincingly

Next to the ability to think, the ability of express oneself convincingly is the most valuable tool one can have in one's equipment. Out of every ten people who rise from perhaps humble beginnings to fame, nine do so because they have equipped themselves with effective English.

If you are properly ambitious your aim should be to make your English error-proof, instantly effective and impressive. Then your employer, your friends, your clients and customers and your casual acquaintances will respond to your resulting personality as you wish them to do. Good English is a key to success. —Overseas Weekly Mirror.

Peril Of Closed MindMan Who Stops Thinking And Learning Becomes A Fool

The peril of the closed mind is the deadliest of all perils, whether it overtakes a man in middle life or in old age. To be ever learning is the one gateway to the fountain of youth. Across that path there is no deadline. When laziness stops a man from thinking and fear prevents him from exploring new realms of truth, that man is on the way to the museum. His contentment, if he has attained such, is the contentment of the fossil.

New Device To Aid DeafPersons Rated 50 Per Cent. Deaf Hear Almost Perfectly

Success in giving 95 per cent. perfect hearing to half deaf persons was announced recently by researchers seeking a scientifically ideal ear amplifier.

Delighted smiles of persons hearing the high notes of an opera for the first time in their lives are rewarding the researchers, Prof. Vern O. Knudsen, and two graduate students, Norman Watson and Ludwig Sepmeyer, who have spent a year and a half on the project at the University of California.

They seek to place mechanical hearing aids on the same prescription basis as eye glasses, promising great relief to the hard of hearing, who are estimated at 3,000,000 in the United States alone.

Discovering that most of such afflicted persons hear some notes perfectly, but are deaf to others, Dr. Knudsen built an amplifier that will pick out a certain range of tone and amplify that alone.

Partly deaf persons, most of them professors and students on the campus, are given sound tests running up and down the scale. Usually they hear perfectly the middle range, but are deaf to high pitched tones.

The amplifier is adjusted to bolster only their "deaf spots" and records are played through it. Listening through earphones, persons rated 50 per cent. deaf have been enabled to hear almost perfectly.

Aid For War VeteransProposal To Set Up A Veterans' Assistance Commission

Ottawa.—Evidence that war veterans are to receive a great deal of consideration in one form and another at the hands of the government is seen in several notices of motion advanced in the House of Commons by Pensions Minister Power.

Major Power proposes to set up a veterans' assistance commission which will labor to find work for ex-service men and generally to carry on research and make investigations on their behalf. It will be a paid commission.

Another measure proposed reorganization to the extent that the pension appeal court will be merged with the pensions commission and become a division of that body. Added commissioners to be appointed so that appeal hearings may be speeded. It also proposes to limit the time in which pension applications may be made, limit the payment of retroactive pensions, and generally to clarify and strengthen the Pensions Act.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSONAPRIL 5*JESUS MEETING HUMAN NEEDS

Golden text: Come, for all things are now ready. Luke 14:17.
Lesson: Luke 14.
Devotional reading: Isaiah 55:1-7.

Explanations And Comments

The Parable of the Slighted Invitation, Luke 14:15-24. Jesus' mention of the recompense in "the resurrection of the just" (verse 14) reminded a guest present in the Pharisee's house (verse 1) of the great feast which, according to Jewish belief, would usher in the Messianic reign, and he complacently observed, "Blessed is he who shall have bread in the kingdom of God." Then Jesus told him a parable designed to disabuse his mind of his evident expectation that, being a Jew, he would be present as his right. "Yes," said the Master, "blessed indeed are they who sit down at the heavenly feast. You think you are one of those whom the kingdom of heaven has invited to the banquet; what have you done, though, with the invitation? I know many who have rejected it, and are thereby lost; and aside, are you of that number? Listen to now to my story of the divine invitation to the banquet of the kingdom of God." (Spencer).

"A certain man (who represents God) made a great supper; and he bade many." Thus Jesus' parable begins. A supper! There is the symbol of true earthly pleasure, especially to an oriental mind. By no other figure could our Lord have expressed to the audience so attractively the idea of real happiness as by a feast. This is his favorite symbol for the kingdom of heaven. Here it is a great supper. Elsewhere it is a wedding festival; and yet again, the marriage feast of a king's son.

He said of his rejected guests, "Christ at supper time to say to them that were bidden, 'Come; for all things are now ready.' Dwight L. Moody, when preaching upon this parable, was now to read this answer to the invitation: 'Having received this evening through thy servant an invitation to be present at the marriage-supper of the Lamb, I here and now thank thee for including me, and by thy help will certainly accept it and be present.'"

Such, however, was not the response that the message received. They all with one accord began to make excuses to "be off," as it is literally understood. All were moved by the same spirit, though their excuses differed. They had all made their engagements for business or pleasure without regard to the banquet, to which they were indifferent.

Believe It Or NotEnglishman Claims Mummified Hawk

It ever for is declared by Great Britain, Sir Mark Grant-Sturges will only have to look at a mummified hawk which he owns. The bird will be bleeding from beak and breast. The hawk originally came from Egypt, and I understand that its habit of bleeding during British crises was discovered at the time of the Boer War. Throughout this war and the Great War the hawk bled continuously. Sir Mark saw the bird the other day. Unmoved by Islamic Aethiopian bloodshed, the patriotic hawk remains as dry as a bone.—Daily Mirror.

Wool Production Affected

Production and quality of wool in southern Alberta will be affected this year due to extreme winter, according to P. V. Lewis, wool agent at Lethbridge, Alta. Growers sustained heavy losses, some reporting losses up to 25 per cent. Cold weather retarded normal growth, he said.

An executive is a person who thinks he is busy when he takes all day to make up his mind.

New Organ For Westminster

Instrument To Be Installed In Time
For Coronation Of King Edward

Westminster Abbey is to have a new organ in time for the coronation of King Edward VIII. It is expected to cost £20,000. An anonymous donor has given £5,000, and it is hoped the balance will be raised without a public appeal. "Most of our present organ is 200 years old," said the dean of Westminster, Dr. Foxley Norris, "and it has been patched and patched in recent years. Once or twice it has broken down, and one whole part of the organ is out of action."

"Tin cans were first made by tin-smiths, who turned them out by hand at the rate of 60 a day."

Icebergs have been known to take as long as 200 years to melt.

FLEMING'S
FOLLYBY
LAWRENCE A. KEATINGE

SYNOPSIS

The story opens with Link Fleming addressing a meeting of Boone County cattlemen called together with the object of forming an irrigation company.

The meeting terminates, but Buzz Hamilton and his sister, Helen, Link and Kilgo stay behind and Helen asks Fleming questions about his irrigation plan. This angers Buzz, who accuses Fleming of trying to influence his sister and, as he asserts, ruin his "spread." Buzz shoots at Fleming in an uncontrollable fit of anger, but Buster Townsend, Link's foreman, is shot in the stomach, and Fleming is unharmed. Buzz is arrested and sentenced to three years' imprisonment.

Helen and Fleming form a partnership to provide irrigation for their own properties. Fleming goes home and studies the plan drawn by Torney to learn whether they could be adapted to a smaller scheme suitable for his and Helen's land, and is satisfied it could be done. Feeling cold, he lights the fire and there is an explosion that wrecks the house, burns it and the plans and renders Link unconscious. He is rescued from the blaze by an employee.

Helen and Link ride to Rawhide for supplies and to obtain funds to carry out the dam project. They meet Roper, who greets Helen and offers to show with her. Link goes to see the Sheriff, who tells him Buzz Hamilton has been paroled, and would arrive on the incoming stage, but that he thinks Link has made a mistake in getting Buzz released.

Buzz Hamilton arrives back in Rawhide while Fleming and Helen are in the bank getting a loan for the payment of wages for work on the dam. Roper Kilgo and Jackpot Mell meet him and he goes into the saloon with them. By the time his sister and Link come from the bank, Buzz has had several drinks. Roper has distorted the facts concerning the dam proposal to Buzz, making it appear that Link was trying to ruin Buzz's influenza with liquor and anger, tries to throttle Fleming, but is thrown to the floor. Then Helen appears and tells Fleming she has been robbed of the $800 they had obtained from the bank.

(Now Go On With The Story)

CHAPTER X.

Fleming ran down the few steps from the saloon platform, crossed the board sidewalk, and grasped her pinto's bridle. "Robbed?" he echoed. "You mean our eight hundred—It's gone!"

"Yes! As I rode past the timber near Iron Spring a man held me up. I—struggled with him," she panted. "But he got our eight hundred dollars. Oh, Link, what shall we do?"

He slipped the pinto's reins over his arm. Out of the corners of his eyes he saw men hurrying from the saloon. "Ssh—make out the amount to make," he added with quick concern at sight of a dark bruise on her cheek. "You're hurt!"

"No. It's nothing," she touched the spot and with fingers that trembled, tucked her glossy hair into place and readjusted her worn Stetson. The girl brushed dust from her blouse and skirt and glanced toward the approaching men. Suddenly her eyes encountered Buzz. At first she gulped, immediately and her red face paled. Then uttering a low cry, Helen darted forward.

"Buzz!" she flung herself into his arms. "Buzz!" Fleming, with Roper Kilgo, Mell, and the others watched for an instant the mute display of affection between brother and sister. Touched by the scene, they turned away. Link felt a hand on his arm and looked up into the grey glinting eyes of Sheriff Ames Stephen.

"He's got robbed, Link? How much? Who did it? Where?" He could not reply to the third question but did answer the first. "Ames," the Star Loop owner said in a tone the others could not miss. "I don't let out how much, 'cause it'd make things harder for us at the dam. Helen got robbed of eight hundred bucks we just borrowed from Otto Pieper."

The law man's eyes widened. He strove over to the girl, Fleming at his heels. "Tell me about it, Miss Hamilton, so's I can start huntin' for the guy right off!"

There was another moment of staring at Buzz, taking his thin face between her two soft palms while he kissed him again and again. "Oh!" she breathed as happy, thankful tears coaxed down the smooth tan of her cheeks. "I'm glad you're free, Buzz! Nothing else matters now. But how—" She stopped. "I don't understand. Your—three years—?"

"Link got me paroled," Buzz measured the rancher with eyes that expressed not the slightest gratitude.

THE person to ask whether the preparation you or your family are taking for the relief of headaches is SAFE to use regularly is your family doctor. Ask him particularly about "ASPIRIN."

He will tell you that before the discovery of "Aspirin" most "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as bad for the stomach and, often, for the heart. Which is food for thought if you seek quick, safe relief.

Scientists rate "Aspirin" among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and the pains of rheumatism, neuritis and neuralgia. And the experience of millions of users has proved it safe for the average person to use regularly. In your own interest remember this:

Helen turned to look at Fleming, who shifted weight in embarrassment. At length he lifted his gaze to find her still fixed upon him. Unspeaking tenderness lay in the soft pool of her eyes, and a fondness he had scarcely dared hope even to exist. Of a sudden he felt again that the Silver Creek project must be made a success! So that later, when both spreads prospered from its waters, he could ask Helen the question he had toyed with inwardly while they looked at the wedding and engagement ring display in Irv Lane's window.

She was describing the holdup. "He wore a bandana mask and walked out from behind a big boulder right alongside the road. He had two guns, and he was a heavy-set man, not very tall, but powerful looking. He wanted the money we—I—had just drawn from the bank."

"How much?" Kilgo asked directly.

"I had my thirty-eight," she continued, pretending not to hear. "I tried to get it, but he came at me and grabbed my wrist. Pull me off my horse, and we struggled. He hurt me, bending my arm behind my back. But I got a clue," she finished with grim-set lips. "I got this!"

Helen held forth a leather wrist cut such as was commonly worn by punchers. It was not new but dark with use, and its rivet design of a fleur-de-lis could only be made out on close inspection. Ames accented it a brief scrutiny and held the object aloft. "Anybody know whose this is?"

Apparently no one did. The cuff resembled others worn by many a man in Boone County, yet was not exactly similar. At length Stephen turned on his heel, starting toward the street. "I'm goin' for a look at the place," he announced briefly. "Might be there's other clues. Sounds like that guy Berrens, maybe, that killed Soak Torney an' put dynamite in Link's stove. Anyhow, I'll get that money back. Might take some time, but we'll grab the guy sooner or later!"

There was some doubt of this in Link's mind, but he did not voice it as he touched Helen's arm. "Do you think we might start for the ranch now?"

"Oh! Yes, I think we had better," Link added in a low tone, "could we get another loan from Otto Pieper?"

"Don't think so. We better get out of town before Otto hears about this. There'd only be an argument and everybody'd find out about our business."

Roper Kilgo held her pinto while the girl remounted. "I'm shore sorry that horse had the crust to lay a finger on yuh, Helen. By gosh, if I met up with 'im it'll be lead fust an' talk afterward, yuh bet!" He flung a surly glance at Link.

alone anyhow if yuh had money along," Roper growled.

Fleming had dispatched Luke Green to his livery barn for a saddle horse, and this was now brought for Buzz Hamilton. He climbed astride somewhat stiffly but seemed pleased at the feel of a mount, between his legs after so long a period, and they started at a trot out of Rawhide.

For some time Link rode in silence, listening to the eager questions Helen put to her brother. But young Hamilton was moody from the liquor he had consumed in the Half Moon, and once the excitement of their reunion waned, he adopted an attitude of dogged sulkeness.

Presently Helen urged her mount closer to Link's. "Is this the surprise you had for me? Is it what you spoke to Sheriff Stephen about?"

He nodded. "I figured we'd come out of the back seat the time the stage rolled in so you'd get a real surprise. O course," he said so that Buzz could not hear, "I didn't plan on him gettin' into the saloon."

She cast a worried glance at her brother. He had turned his head away for a furtive sip from a pint flask of whiskey. Stowing it in his pocket, he faced front, watching them covertly to see if they had noticed.

Helen's face wore a look of despair. His rode close to her brother and laid a hand on his arm. "I wish you wouldn't do that, Buzz," she said softly. "You know, I'm so glad you are back, and we're going to have such a wonderful time, starting all over again. You must forget the past and think only of the future. Wasn't it generous of Link to arrange to—to get your freedom, Buzz?"

He answered with a malevolent look. "Still puttin' his game over on yuh! Generous? Yeah—to himself!"

"Why, Buzz! Whatever do you mean?"

"I mean he's roped yuh into his fool irrigation scheme—what folks call Fleming's Folly. He's afraid yuh might back out while there's still a chance to save our Triple H from bankruptcy. So for a last play to keep yuh fooled he got me paroled. That, and because he was afraid Kilgo would get me a full pardon, the only thing really worth while. If my legal rights 'Fleming couldn't figure to keep the wool pulled over your eyes! Paroled this way, I haven't got 'em."

Helen stared from one man to the other, her plangent oval face drained in pain. "Oh, Buzz, don't say that! I went into partnership with Link of my own free will. Why, that dam is going to be the makings of our spread!"

Again he fished the flat bottle from his pocket. "Makin' of the Star Loop, yuh mean?" Uncorking the flask, he raised it to his lips.

"Buzz! Don't drink, please. You know you—that it was part of the cause of your shooting—I mean—" She stopped, anxiously and hurt fighting for dominance of her lovely face. "Please don't begin drinking and gambling the instant you come home!"

He swallowed some of the fiery liquor as if deliberately to flaunt her request. But of a sudden, as he was stowing the bottle away, Link spurred his stallion to Hamilton's off-side. With a quick sweep of his hand he sent the bottle hurtling into the dust.

Buzz gasped. "What the hell yuh doin'?"

"Keep this up and your parole is going to be doggone sudden! I planned to surprise your sister, make her happy for sight of you, and here you go back to company like Jackpot Mell and the others the minute you land in town. Watch your step!" Fleming warned sharply. "Or you'll send yourself on the inside lookin' out, like you were till I went to a lot of bother to help you!"

"Threatening me, eh? I wish to

Master Code In Alberta

Provides For Fixing Both Maximum
And Minimum Prices
Fixing of both maximum and minimum prices are provided in the general master code binding under all classes of retail trade in Alberta, which has been approved by the provincial government and was released by Hon. E. C. Manning, minister of trade and industry. It is to take effect April 1 next.

The minister stated that regulations under the code will provide for a licensing fee of not more than $2, with $1 for each additional license. No additional license will be required in a community where there are only general stores, regardless of the lines of merchandise handled, the minister said. A general store license will cover all classifications of merchandise.

Renewing Relief Act

House Of Commons Places Resolution On Order Paper

Renewal of the relief act for another year is provided for in resolution placed on the order paper of the House of Commons by Hon. Norman Rogers, minister of labor. The relief act lapses at the end of each fiscal year and must be renewed in order that necessary grants to provinces and other assistance to meet unemployment can be continued.

The minister said the legislation which he will introduce eliminates the "blank cheque" features which Liberals opposed so bitterly during the last parliament. The legislation, he said, will call for approval by parliament of appropriations made under the act.

Little Helps For This Week

In your patience possess ye your souls. Luke 21:19.

What though thy way be dark,
With countless cars do vex till mirth
To thee no sweet strain singeth:
Still hide thy life above, and still Believe that God is love: fulfill
Whatever he Bringeth.

The soul loses comfort of itself when it is impatient. "When it submits without a murmur it possesses itself in peace and possesses God. To be impatient is to desire what we have not, or not to desire what we have. Why make a calamity of it by being impatient? Peace does not dwell in outward things; but within the soul. We may preserve it in the midst of bitterest pain if we will remain firm and submissive. Peace in this life springs from acquiescence even in disagreeable things, not in an exemption from bearing them. The chief pang of most trials is not so much the actual suffering itself as our own spirit of resistance to it."

Origin Of Old Term

"Bitter End" Has No Connection With Meaning Of Word

When we speak of the bitter end we often mean an end that is the reverse of sweet, but the term originated in a way that has nothing to do with taste or the usual meaning of bitter. Bitts are a pair of posts on the deck of a ship for fastening a rope or cable. Thus when the bitter end has been paid out there is no rope left to wind round the bitts.
